

The $CRYS token issued by CBI is now listed on the PancakeSwap decentralized exchange

- The $CRYS token is dedicated to the AlphaVerse digital world.
- The initial $CRYS liquidity pool is poised to expand as the number of AlphaVerse users grow.

CRYPTO BLOCKCHAIN INDUSTRIES Paris, France, 21 November 2023 at 18h30 CET (CBI, Euronext Growth Paris: FR0014007LW0 - ALCBI) announces that the $CRYS token, issued by CBI is now listed on the Pancake Swap decentralized exchange. The $CRYS token is dedicated to the AlphaVerse digital world.

AlphaVerse is a dynamic digital world that leverages blockchain technology to create immersive user experiences. Within AlphaVerse, users can explore diverse landscapes, engage in interactive quests, and participate in a vibrant community.

The $CRYS token serves as the native utility token within AlphaVerse, unlocking various features and enhancing user engagement across the platform. 600 million units of the $CRYS token have been created. Listing on the PancakeSwap exchange platform has taken place through the direct listing of a first series of $CRYS tokens. The initial listing has taken place on November 21, 2023. The initial price was $0.50 per token.

This initial price of the $CRYS token may not be representative of the value of the $CRYS token, as the size of the initial liquidity pool was limited and driven only by the objective to organize a decentralized trading place.

The main goal of this listing is to create and organize a place of exchange for the $CRYS token easily accessible to all AlphaVerse users upon the opening of the digital world.

The $CRYS token has a number of functionalities, such as enabling microtransactions on the platform, participation in quests or mini-games, the purchase of NFTs, the animation of referral programs, access to discounts on purchases, and the earning of $CRYS tokens in connection with the creativity or commitment of users. The White Paper document from the AlphaVerse website, describing the first features of this $CRYS token, is available at the following link: https://alphaverse.com/wp-content/uploads/2023/06/AlphaVerse_Whitepaper_v2.pdf
